Report.

The Committee on School Districts, to whom was re-committed a portion of their Report of March last, have directed me to report the following, to wit: That the following described territory now included in school district No. 23, viz.—commencing at the south-west corner of Solon Sanborn's land, by Contoocook river; thence running northerly by the west line of said Sanborn's land and land of Robert Hardy to the Rangeway; thence easterly by the Rangeway to the south-west corner of Isaac Colby's land; thence northerly by the westerly line of said Colby's land and the easterly line of Thomas Eastman's land, to Boscawen line; thence easterly by said Boscawen line to Contoocook river to the place begun at, be disannexed from said district and united to district No. 20, and that the remainder of said district No. 23, together with all the territory now included in district No. 1 and 25, embracing all the land in said town north of Contoocook river, except what is hereby annexed to No. 20, be united and constitute school district No. 1. That school district No. 22 be annulled, and that all the territory now known as district No. 22 be annexed to district No. 4, except the farm of John Alexander, which by an act of the Selectmen has been assigned to a school district in Hopkinton.

All of which is respectfully submitted by

JOSIAH STEVENS,

for the Committee.

The Selectmen made the following report, which was accepted:

The Selectmen have taken into consideration the subject which was referred to them, by a vote of the town, "To see if the town will accept the bridge across the canal at Fisherville, so-called, as a part of the highway?" After examining the bridge, and ascertaining that the canal was cut across the road for conveying water to the factory buildings, and inasmuch as it is of no use to the town, we are of the opinion that it is inexpedient for the town to accept the same as a public highway.

Concord, March 10, 1848.

Report of the Superintending School Committee.

In submitting the annual report of the condition of the schools in Concord, the Superintending School Committee are happy to have it in their power to say, that with a few exceptions, the public schools in town have been judiciously and successfully conducted through both the summer and winter terms of the past year. In general, teachers of capacity and qualification superior to those of the preceeding year have been employed, and the result has been a marked and decided improvement in the schools under their charge. In some instances however, persons of competent literary attainments, but deficient in energy and aptness to govern and to teach, have undertaken a task, for which they were not fitted by nature or education, and fulfilled it with little reputation to themselves, and less benefit to their pupils. Want of energy in the teachers, and a consequent want of order and quiet in the schools, is the prominent evil which has fallen under our observation, aside from the inattention and want of fidelity in parents. If prudential committees, would exercise more care to hire only competent, energetic, efficient and systematic teachers, and parents would see that their children not merely attend school, but conduct properly and make some improvement while there—if instead of entrusting their offspring to the unaided management of a stranger, the father and mother would themselves visit the school-room, teach their children to regard the teacher as their friend, and participate and sympathize in all his efforts to advance their progress in useful knowledge, our common schools would be at once elevated in character and influence.— Until better teachers shall be provided, and the parents exhibit as much interest in the education of their children as they do in the management of their ordinary pecuniary affairs, it is vain to anticipate any thing like perfection in the operation of our system of popular instruction.

It is believed however, that public sentiment is improving in relation to this matter. As already stated, better teachers generally have been employed this year than last, and their worth has been appreciated. Parents are devoting more time and bestowing more attention upon the culture of their offspring. With two or three exceptions, every school in town has been visited four times during the year by some member of the committee, and they have frequently been accompanied in their visit by the prudential committees and some of the parents of the district.— In some parts of the town, an increased interest in education has been clearly evinced by providing better accommodations for pupils, and additional facilities for teachers.— This is particularly the case in Nos. 10, 11, and 20, though we regret to say, that notwithstanding the important work already accomplished, No. 10 is still destitute of the necessary accommodation of suitable rooms for all its numerous scholars. Another building the size and convenience of the substantial edifice erected with so much liberality and unanimity of sentiment last year, would do little more than provide for the wants of its rapidly increasing population.

In the report of last years committee, the example of No. 10, in building their new, well constructed and spacious house was noticed with commendation, as deserving to be emulated by other districts; and it has been. During the past year No. 20, has done itself much credit by the construction of a large and very convenient house for the accommodation of its schools, at an expense of about three thousand dollars. This noble conduct of the inhabitants of that district is entitled to all praise, exhibiting as it does not only their liberality, but their wise determination that the means of mental and moral culture shall keep pace with the growth in wealth and population of their beautiful and thrifty village.

District No. 11, too, has within the past year completely remodeled and refitted the rooms in their former house, so that they now compare favorably with those of No. 10, and has provided a new house for the accommodation of its smaller children, so that the youth of no district in town probably are now better accommodated with suitable and comfortable school rooms, in proportion to their number, than those of No. 11. Moreover, that district last fall made a small appropriation for the purchase of apparatus sufficient to furnish their rooms with thermometers, terrestrial globes, outline maps, a set of geometrical solids and a set of Holbrook's infant school apparatus. Besides adding much to the appearance of the rooms themselves, rendering them more interesting and attractive to their inmates, the advantages of this little expenditure were strikingly apparent during the continuance and at the close of the schools. While we hope and would earnestly recommend that the other districts in town imitate Nos. 10, 11, and 20 in rebuilding, or remodeling and refitting the rooms of their school houses, we trust they will not fail to follow the example of No. 11, in procuring at a trifling expense, apparatus to illustrate and facilitate the study of the more important branches of useful learning. Its cost is not a tithe of the actual value of such apparatus to the school in which it may be placed.

Only two or three instances of insubordination, demanding the interference of the committee, have occurred during the year. There are numerous minor evils, such as too great variety and want of uniformity of school books, the want of punctuality in the attendance of scholars, the indisposition of some parents to have their children subject to the discipline indispensable to their progress in knowledge; and many others which might be named whose removal would add greatly to the success of our schools; but to these our predecessors have so frequently called attention, that it is unnecessary for us to do more than allude to them.

From the subjoined table, exhibiting in a comprehensive form, the statistics of all the different schools in town, it will be seen that a much larger number of scholars have received instruction, for a much longer period, during the past year, than ever before. By a comparison of the results therein exhibited with those furnished in former reports, we are confident our citizens will be satisfied that the sum of eight hundred dollars, raised at the last annual meeting for the support of schools, in addition to the sum required by law, was wisely appropriated, and has been usefully and profitably expended. If so, they will agree with us, that instead of discontinuing or diminishing this additional sum hereafter, true wisdom and true economy dictate its increase. In our judgment, it is not only cheaper, but vastly more beneficial to a community like our own, constituting an integral portion of a great confederated republic, whose life blood is intelligence and whose basis is the natural equality of its citizens, that all our children commence and continue, as long as possible, their education in the same schools.

It will be seen that the whole number of scholars reported as attending the winter schools is 1530; the number attending the summer schools, 1432. Neither of these numbers is large enough, for the reason that in three of the districts no summer schools were kept, and in No. 10 want of funds compelled the discontinuance of one of the schools at the close of the fall term.

The number of persons in town between four and fourteen years of age, is reported at 1772, but it is believed that the actual number is much larger than reported, especially in districts Nos. 9, 10, 11 and 20. There is, however, no provision by existing laws, whereby an accurate enumeration can be obtained.

In very few districts have we had reports of the number of children between 4 and 14 that do not attend school; and from none have we received returns of the number of persons between 14 and 21 years of age who cannot read and write. It is confidently believed, that, aside from the foreign population, these classes of persons are very limited.

The school house in district No. 3 is entirely inadequate to the proper accommodation of the children of the district, and it is hoped that its citizens may not permit another year to pass by without taking some measures to remedy the inconveniences to which they are now exposed. The wants of that district imperatively demand, and the intelligence, ability and public spirit of its inhabitants must ultimately ensure the erection of a new house, with two school rooms, arranged, finished and furnished in the most convenient and approved mode.

Districts Nos. 9, 12, 13 and 19 would be exceedingly benefitted by remodeling their school rooms, and furnishing them with improved seats and benches. The same is true of other districts, although from the smaller number of scholars, less disadvantages are experienced in them than in those we have named.
